Recent Distinguished Visitor

Last month, the Global Perspectives Office (GP) hosted Serhii Plokyh, a leading expert on Eastern European affairs. In addition to directing the Harvard Ukrainian Research Institute, Plokyh is also the Mykhailo S. Hrushevsky Professor of Ukrainian History at Harvard University.

Plokyh's visit provided the UCF community with a timely and comprehensive perspective on the crisis in Ukraine. While here, he participated in a round-table discussion with students, faculty and community members. John C. Bersia, GP's director, also interviewed him for an episode of Global Perspectives on WUCF TV, which airs this Sunday at 9:30 a.m. Don't miss it!

GP Fellow Looking East from D.C.

We are always proud of the amazing opportunities our interns, scholars and fellows pursue. This fall, former China-Taiwan Cross-Strait Fellow Richard Haddock will intern for the Department of State in the Office of Public Diplomacy of the Bureau of East Asian and Pacific Affairs. There, he will assist in crafting and executing U.S. policy for that region.

Haddock, who is majoring in International Relations and minoring in Asia Studies and Diplomacy, has spent several semesters with GP. He even studied Mandarin Chinese in Taiwan last summer. When asked to comment on his upcoming endeavor, Haddock replied, "I intend to use my passion in cultural studies to do my best in helping shape U.S. policy to be as dynamic, innovative and integrative as it is needed to be in the current international affairs atmosphere."

We at GP love to empower our students to be active global citizens. We encourage any Central Florida college student to consider applying for an internship or fellowship for the fall semester. Check out the open opportunities in the column to the left.
